

Put This Stove In Your Kitchen

It is wonderfully convenient to do kitchen work on a stove that's ready at the instant wanted, and out of the way the moment you're done. Such a stove is the New Perfection Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove. By using it you avoid the continuous overpowering heat of a coal fire and cook with comfort, even in dog-days. The is so constructed that it cannot add perceptibly to the heat of a room; the flame being directed up a retaining chimney to the stove top where it is needed for cooking. You can see that a stove sending out heat in but one direction would be preferable on a hot day to a stove radiating heat in all directions. The "New Perfection" keeps a kitchen uniformly comfortable. Three sizes, fully warranted. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

The Rayo Lamp

is the ideal lamp for family use—safe, convenient, economical and a great light giver. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

The Romance of Buried Pictures.

A romantic story of a picture purchased at a London auction which on expert examination proved to be painted over a Rembrandt worth $8,000 is curiously reminiscent of the discovery of a Correggio under similar circumstances. A good many years ago two picture restorers, Lovers and Hunter-spergh, bought at an art sale in Rome a number of old pictures in order to provide themselves with canvases for repainting. In the division of the spoils Hunter-spergh received an indifferent picture of flowers, on which he painted a study of a head. This picture he offered to Lovers, who on close examination found that the new ground sealed off and that underneath were traces of a figure painted in a style that denoted the hand of a master. Replacing the scales and concealing his discovery, he purchased the picture for little more than the value of the canvas. Removing the two grounds, he disclosed an exceedingly clever painting by Correggio, which he sold to the Earl of Bristol for $1,500.—Dundee Advertiser.

Dogs of Luxury.

The appearance of little dogs as objects of luxury goes back to the most ancient times. Documents are not wanting that go to show that Greek and Roman women had little dogs which were idolized by their mistresses. Even men, particularly among foreigners, were not ashamed to walk the streets of Rome with pet dogs under their arms. Speaking of this subject, Plutarch relates that Julius Caesar, seeing one day in Rome some strangers thus loaded with their dogs, asked them ironically whether the women of their country did not bear children. Tertius, the daughter of Lucius Aurelius Paulus, was so fond of her dog that in the moment of bidding farewell to her father, who was about to leave his country and his family to wage war against Persus, king of Macedonia, she frankly admitted that the sad news imprinted on her face was due to the death of her pet dog Persus. In Europe the greyhounds were the first favorites of women during the middle ages.—Boston Post.

Too Much of a Good Thing.

George Marshall, a philanthropist who always kept a sharp lookout never to be wasteful, decided to go for a week's camping, taking as his guests some ragged street urchins. One morning he used the bits of meat left from the evening before and made hash for breakfast. There was some left over, which he concluded to reheat and serve again at noon.

"Johnnie, will you have some hash?"

"Johnnie, will you have some hash?" he asked one lad.

"Bet you life," replied the lad, who was constitutionally hungry.

"Peter, pass your plate for some hash," to another freckled nosed lad.

"Not if I knows it," was the unexpected reply.

"I thought you liked hash from the way you ate it this morning," replied Mr. Marshall.

"I did like it for breakfast," said the lad, "but none of your review of reviews for me for dinner."—Lippincott's Magazine.

Sided With Father.

"There is a little chap in our town," said the suburbanite, "whose father and mother have words quite frequently, and have them loud enough to be heard by the neighbors. The burden of their recriminations when audible is, on the wife's part, that she ever lowered the Hicks family sufficiently to marry a Stubbs, and on his part that he ever honored the Hicks family by allying it with the house of Stubbs.

"One day last summer the young son of the house went fishing. He had barely got his line into the brook when he heard his mother calling him.

"There it is," said he disgustedly, "the minute the Stubbses begin to fish the Hickses begin to holler."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Lesson in Thrift.

A lesson in thrift is found in the advice given by Congressman John E. Andrus to a young man for whom he had secured a minor appointment in the capitol at Washington. Meeting the young fellow in the capitol, he placed a hand on his shoulder and remarked:

"William, you are just beginning your life. Let me give you a bit of sound advice: When you leave your boarding house in the morning never take more than 30 cents in your pockets, enough perhaps for your luncheon and for car fare. You will then not be tempted to spend more than you can afford."—Yonkers Statesman.

Unchanging Man. Mortal man offers but little difference in spite of the diversity of race and climate, and in analyzing the Egyptian we almost find ourselves reproduced.

Intellectual man also manifests a singular identity of aspiration and belief from the Nile to the Ganges and from the Euxinos to the Arno.—Mercure de France.

Some Grains of Luck. "Is your husband having any luck at the race track?"

"Some luck," answered young Mrs. Torkins. "He hasn't caught cold nor had his pockets picked."—Washington Star.

A True Patriot.

"Johnny, what's a patriot?"

"A boy who'd rather miss see'n' de game dan go in on a ball knocked over de fence by de visitin' team."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Not Entirely One. "And so they were made one."

"Oh, I don't know. I believe she still has a mind of her own."

THEIR LIVING PRINCE.

Through the Department of Commerce and Labor and the Postoffice Department, Secretary Straus and Postmaster General Meyer have inaugurated a plan of service which will relieve farmers and others in this country from further embarrassment in the matter of procuring adequate help. The details are being promulgated through the Division of Information, Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization, Department of Commerce and Labor, and Assistant Postmaster General DeGraw, through the Rural Delivery Service.

The plan is original to this country and contemplates a general distribution of admitted aliens and other persons seeking employment. In that view, there are being forwarded to postmasters throughout the United States, packages of cards, with return attachments, for distribution to farmers and others who are likely to need the services of farm and common laborers, or mechanics, and who may obtain the character of help required by mailing the return information card, properly filled out, without payment of postage.

For this valuable service no charge is to be made, or fee accepted, either from employer or employee, and the officers entrusted with the work will exercise every possible discretion in selecting men and directing them to destination. In cases where labor is not needed at this particular time, the applications may be retained by prospective employers for future use.

The work of selecting suitable persons to serve in the several fields of labor covered will be given special attention by experts designated by the Department of Commerce and Labor.

BIG APPROPRIATIONS.

The Russia Douma adopted Tuesday the bill introduced by the minister of war, authorizing the expenditure of $46,000,000 for the completion of army supplies and material. The appropriation will be devoted almost exclusively to the military needs of Transbaikalia, the construction of fortifications at Vladivostok and barracks at several centers with the best available artillery equipment.

The War Office also obtained the Douma's tentative approval of its programme for the expenditure of a further $100,000,000 in 1909-11, for the same purpose, together with the estimated expenses of building the Amur railroad. The Douma already has given its consent to the expenditure of more than $300,000,000 to assure the defense of Russia's far eastern possessions.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Would Have Saved Him $100.00.

"In 1902 I had a very severe attack of diarrhoea," says R. N. Farrar of Cat Island, La. "For several weeks I was unable to do anything. On March 18, 1907, I had a similar attack, and took Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which gave me prompt relief. I consider it one of the best medicines of its kind in the world, and had I used it in 1902 believe it would have saved me a hundred dollar doctor's bill." Sold by W. F.
